

How we've made a difference this year

It's been another challenging year dominated by the consequences of Covid-19, but we've continued to be your champion for health and social care services and make sure your voice is heard by those who plan and run services.

Championing What Matters to You, our annual report, showcases how we've been making a difference.

In the past year (2021-22):

- 4,400 people have shared their experiences with us.
- 7,140 people have accessed our advice and information online or contacted us with questions about local support.
- We have published 12 reports and made 78 recommendations to services to make health and care better in Wiltshire.
- We reached 133,370 people on social media.
- We have 40 volunteers helping us to carry out our work, giving 1,480 hours of their own time.
